Momma – Where Has Grandpa Gone?

By Nancy Northrop

Illustrated by Joey Martin

In her
7th book
for children,
Nancy
Northrop
once again deals with a delicate subject – the death of a young boy's beloved grandfather.

Tenderly, his mother and grandma explain where grandpa has gone. Together they all make a “prayer garden” on grandpa's farm “where we can sit and watch flowers grow.
We can look up at the clouds and talk to Grandpa in Heaven anytime we want.”

Beautifully illustrated, this inspiring book will comfort any grieving child and offer ideas on how to deal with death in a resourceful way and in understandable language.
